OUTSTANDING YOUNG FARMER—Michael Shelton, left, has been honored by the Murray-Calloway County Jaycees as the Outstanding Young Farmer (OYF) of Calloway County for 1975 and has been selected as one of three Outstanding Young Farmers in the state of Kentucky. Shelton, who lives in the Lynn Grove community with his wife, Beverly (center) and their daughter, Kim, was presented the award last night by local OYF chairman Terry Broach. Since he was selected as one of three OYF's in Kentucky, Shelton will have a chance to represent the state in national OYF competition. Judges will select the winner of the state honor from the three candidates.

Reassessment Of United States' Participation In UN Scheduled

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate, responding quickly to the United Nations resolution labeling Zionism a form of racism, will reassess "the United States' further participation" in the world assembly.

Both houses of Congress, joining in a storm of American protest Tuesday, passed resolutions condemning the U.N. General Assembly action. The House, however, deleted the call for reassessment of U.S. participation.

President Ford also reacted strongly against the U.N.'s vote when he met with nine visiting members of the Israeli parliament in Washington. He called the Zionism resolution a "wholly unjustified action."

Later, speaking in Charlestown, W. Va.,

Ford said his administration will be "completely firm in our position" of opposing the resolution, though he did not spell out what reaction he would take.

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger said in Pittsburgh that "the United

Deadline For Chamber Dinner Is This Friday

The Murray Chamber of Commerce reminded all members today that Friday, November 14, is the deadline for buying tickets and making reservations for the Chamber of Commerce Annual Banquet. Tickets may be obtained at the Chamber offices or from any member of the Board of Directors.

The featured speaker at this year's banquet will be Richard Lewis, chief executive officer to Governor Julian Carroll.

The "Person of the Year Award" will be made at the event. Ballots are in the hands of all chamber members at this time. The deadline for receiving ballots is 1:00 p.m., Monday, November 17. The nominees are Dr. C. C. Lowry, Betty Lowry, Gingles Wallis and Margaret Trevathan.

The 49th Annual Banquet will be held Tuesday, November 18, at 6:30 p.m. in the Waterfield Student Union Building.

Calloway Men To Be Tried Jan. 13 On Murder Charge

The trial date for two Calloway County men, Terry Mitchell Compton and Donald Ray Scott, has been set for Jan. 13 in Henry County (Tn.) Circuit Court. The pair will stand trial on first degree murder charges according to Circuit Court Judge Dick Jerman.

The two men are charged with the Aug. 4 slaying of Travis Lax and attempting to murder Lax's widow, Dathel, and two counts of burglary.

Nations will damage itself if it continues on this road" and added that the United States "will pay no attention" to the resolution against Zionism.

The criticism came after the U.N. assembly voted the anti-Zionism resolution Monday night by a vote of 72 to 35 with 32 abstentions and three nations absent. Zionism is the movement for a national Jewish homeland in Palestine; under the religious notion of "ingathering of tribes," Jews automatically become citizens upon arrival in Israel.

Religious organizations, including the World Council of Churches, condemned the assembly's vote. The World Council, which represents the world's major Protestant and Orthodox denominations, voiced "unequivocal opposition" to the resolution and appealed for reconsideration. The Vatican did not immediately comment on the vote.

Some 100,000 demonstrators in New York City's garment center blocked all traffic from 37th Street to Times Square along Seventh Avenue in protest of the vote.

In Washington, reaction in the Senate was swiftest and most damning.

Fair and Cold

Fair and cold tonight with chance of light frost in suburban areas, low in the low to mid 30s. Partly cloudy and cool Thursday, high in the mid to upper 40s. Friday partly cloudy and a little warmer.

Active Tobacco Crop Forecast For District

An active market for dark-fired tobacco and dark air-cured tobacco has been forecast for the Western District by Holmes Ellis, general manager of the Western Dark Fired Tobacco Growers Association.

The dark-fired crop in the western district is estimated around 5,800,000 pounds and the dark air-cured crop is predicted to total around 800,000 pounds.

Grade loan rates for Kentucky fire-cured type 23 tobacco will be based on an average level of support of 65.2 cents per pound, about 12 per cent more than the 1974 crop, according to a release from the association. The grade loan rates range from 40 cents to 94 cents per pound.

Grade loan rates for dark air-cured type 35 tobacco are based on an average level of support of 58 cents per pound, also, about 12 per cent more than the 1974 crop level. Dark air-cured loan rates range from 40 cents to 83 cents per pound.

Tobacco will be offered in the usual manner and price supports will be available to cooperating growers through the association using the services and facilities of auction warehouses, Ellis said. Marketing cards must be presented to the auction warehouses where tobacco is sold in order to receive prompt settlement.

Opening dates for dark air-cured tobacco will be announced soon, and opening dates for dark-fired tobacco sales will be early in January, 1976, Ellis added.

In other tobacco news, the Kentucky Crop and Livestock Reporting Service has forecast type 23 fire-cured production for the state to total five million pounds, 20 per cent above the 1974 crop. Yield per acre is forecast at 1,675 pounds compared to 1,610 pounds for the 1974 crop. Production of type 23 in Kentucky and Tennessee is expected to total 5.8 million pounds.

Production of type 35 tobacco for Kentucky is forecast at 7.2 million pounds with an average yield of 1,750 pounds per acre. Total U. S. production of one sucker tobacco is expected to be 9.6 million pounds.

One Injured In Incident At Calvert City

One man was injured and two arrested following an incident near the construction site of Tennessee Forging Steel's $14 million mini-mill at Calvert City Tuesday.

William Carter, of Kevil, was struck by a pickup truck on Highway 1523 shortly before seven a. m., according to Marshall County Sheriff Jerry English.

Carter was in the intensive care unit of Western Baptist Hospital after being injured as one of a group of people gathered on the highway to protest the employment of non-union workers at the Calvert City site, English said. Officers arrested Bill Fitchum, McKenzie, Tn., the alleged driver of the truck, and charged him with hit and run. He was later released on $500 bond. Also arrested was James Hanson of Gilbertsville on a disorderly conduct charge, in connection with allegedly harassing a law officer at the scene of Fitchum's arrest. He was released on $150 bond.

The crop reporting service has also forecast the production of type 22, fire-cured tobacco in the state at 9.4 million pounds, up 22 per cent from last year. The yield of type 22 leaf is predicted to reach 1,775 pounds per acre, 115 pounds above one year ago.

Burley tobacco production in Kentucky as of Nov. 1, is forecast at 441.8 million pounds, three per cent above 1974's production. Yield is expected to average 2,350 pounds per acre, 95 pounds below the 1974 yield. Burley auction markets are expected to open Nov. 24.

Mark Wilson, a 17-year-old Calloway County High School senior, accepts an award from Governor Julian Carroll. Wilson was named Soil Conservationist of the Year and received the award at the Governor's Conservation Achievement Awards Program banquet last Saturday night in Louisville.

Several Items In Store For City Fathers

Several items of business, mostly of a routine nature, are in store on the agenda for the regular meeting of the Murray Common Council at 7 p.m. Thursday in City Hall.

Included on the agenda are the following:

—Discussion of a proposed agreement between the city and the electric plant board concerning a transfer of properties owned by the two agencies;

—The appointment of a committee to study the city's privilege license ordinance;

—A report on city-county park finances;

—Consideration of a reduction in charges at the city landfill;

—Consideration of a request to sell two refuse vehicles;

—The employment of a temporary assistant for the City Clerk;

—A hearing concerning an employee of the Murray Fire Department.

The council will also discuss two items from the Murray Planning Commission—a revised legal description and a partial replot of the Tucker property.

The council will also consider a change in the next regular meeting date which falls on Thanksgiving Day.

Former Murray Police Chief Indicted By Jury

A former Murray police chief has been indicted by a federal grand jury in Louisville for firearms violations.

James M. Brown, 59, was charged Monday with 44 counts of violating the Federal Gun Control Act, including failure to keep records of firearms transactions and unlawful possession of a sawed-off shotgun.

He was also charged with attempting to obstruct the investigation conducted by the U.S. Treasury Dept.

Brown was charged by Alcohol Tobacco and Firearms agent Raymond P. Wilt with unlawful possession of a sawed-off shotgun in April following a raid on Brown's home.

An ATF spokesman said that raid and subsequent charge came as the result of a lengthy investigation by the ATF, Murray and Mayfield police departments, and the Kentucky State Police.

Several firearms were seized during the April raid.

Following a preliminary hearing on May 6, the case was ordered held to await action of the November federal grand jury.

Brown did not testify at that hearing.

A U.S. District Court spokesman said that most of the charges filed against Brown were the result of his alleged failure to keep and maintain proper records of various firearms transactions that he engaged in.

Brown has been free on $1,000 bond since the April raid on his home.

Federal firearms violations carry a maximum penalty of 10 years imprisonment or a $10,000 fine.

Toy Drive Being Held

A toy drive, sponsored by the Council for Exceptional Children, Murray State University, is now being held in Murray and will continue through Monday, November 17.

The toys collected will be cleaned and repaired and be taken to the Children's Outwood Campus at Dawson Springs and also to some of the Daycare Centers in Murray.

Boxes have been placed in the local churches for persons to place their toys or they may be taken to the desk in the lobby of the Special Education building on North 16th Street. Persons may also call 762-2446 or 762-2447 and leave a message for a member of the CEC to pick up the toys.

Today (Wednesday) from 4:00 to 6:00 p. m. members of the Kappa Delta Sorority will assist the CEC by going to several specific locations to pick up the toys. They will be in the areas of South 16th Street, Canterbury Estates, Gatesborough Estates, and streets bordering Doran Road, and persons in this area are asked to have their toys ready for collection by the students.

City School Board To Meet Thursday

Members of the Murray Independent School Board will discuss several items of business at the board's regular meeting Thursday at 7 p.m. in the board offices.

Included on the agenda will be authorization for architects to proceed with plans for renovation of Murray Middle School.

The board will also discuss acceptance of a transfer of ESEA Title III from the Paducah School Board and the continuation of the "National School Board Association affiliation."

A report on the diagnostic-prescriptive resource unit will be presented for the board's consideration and the board will hear a recommendation on substitute teachers.

Rescue Squad Called To New MSU Pavilion

Members of the Calloway County Fire-Rescue Squad answered an alarm to the new livestock pavilion belonging to Murray State University on College Farm Road around 9:30 Wednesday morning.

Firemen discovered several cases of pipe insulation aflame near the rear door of the facility and the fire was quickly extinguished with booster lines. The cause of the fire was reported to have been sparks from a welder.

Members of the squad answering the alarm were: Jerry Edwards, Kenny Collins, Bud Miller, Sam Smith, Floyd Garland, Robert Trenholm, Ronnie Barnett, Roger Hughes, Bryan Claycomb, Jesse Redden and Ron Stout.

Turkey Shoot Set Saturday At CCHS

A Turkey Shoot will be held at the parking lot of the Calloway County High School on Saturday, November 15, from 8:00 a. m. to 4:00 p. m.

The shoot is being sponsored by the Calloway County High School Band and Band Boosters. Refreshments and baked goods will also be on sale.

YOUTH APPRECIATION WEEK—The Murray Optimist Club is observing Youth Appreciation Week during this week and have selected the members of the Calloway County High Speech Team and the Murray High Band to receive certificates congratulating the two local organizations on their contributions to the community. Optimist Club president, Howard Steely, left, (left photo) and Tommy Marshall, project chairman, presented Joe Sills and Buddy Light, MHS band directors with the certificates at a dinner Tuesday night; and Steely (right photo) presented the certificates to CCHS Speech and Debate Coach, Larry England, and Mike Farris.

Murray Chapter Of PWP To Hear Elizabeth Riley At Meeting

Elizabeth Riley, director of the Educational Learning Center, Murray, will be the speaker at the meeting of the Murray Chapter of Parents Without Partners to be held Thursday, November 13, at eight p. m. at the United Campus Ministry Building, 202 North 15th Street.

"Problems of Adjustment For Children of Divorce" will be the subject of the talk by Mrs. Riley. Many children find the period of adjustment difficult following a divorce, a PWP spokesman said. There are no accurate figures on the number of divorced people in Murray; however since the national figure is nearing three out of five marriages ending in divorce, the number of divorced people in Murray is considerable, the spokesman added.

The Murray PWP Chapter meets once a month at the UCM building for discussions and programs relative to divorce. The club also has several other functions throughout the month. No special invitation is needed to hear the program on Thursday. Membership is open to all single parents by reason of death, divorce, separation, or never having been married.

Facilities are provided free for the children. For information call 753-9730 or 753-9495.

Employee Party To Boss's Crime

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: The partners who own the company I work for don't have time to check every detail of our company. The man they hired as manager (my boss) has been embezzling funds from the company.

I noticed the shortage when I returned from a sick leave about six months ago. When I confronted my boss with the first shortage I found, he promptly told me as long as he was the boss he would run things his way. I was then told to write off the shortages as "entertainment expense."

Things have been getting gradually worse. Funds amounting to $100 in cash are missing at the end of the week, company gas runs his family's three cars, checks for large amounts to companies with whom we have no dealings are made out for personal items he has purchased.

Should I tell the owners or wait until they find the shortages? I handle the money and pay the expenses of the company. I'm very upset by this and fear if I don't say something, I could be accused of covering up the shortage.

DISTRESSED EMPLOYEE

DEAR DISTRESSED: You are being maneuvered into the crime of "misprison"—concealment of another's felony. And if you knowingly falsify records, you then become an accessory to the crime. Of course you should tell the owners what your boss is doing! Failing to do so could get you into big trouble.

DEAR ABBY: Four months ago, I met this man. He's 22, handsome, sweet and kind. He's new in this city and lives down the street in a boarding house.

I suppose I should be honest and tell you that we had sex the first time we were together, and I've been going to his place as often as I can ever since.

He told me he loved me, and I think I am in love with him.

Last week he said his landlady doesn't approve of my coming to visit him, and she wants it stopped. How old am I? Just 14. My parents don't let me take company, and I have to sneak out to see him, but I can't stay away from him.

I don't want to get hurt, but I haven't the willpower to stop. Please help.

YOUNG AND FOOLISH

DEAR YOUNG: You named yourself appropriately. This man has used you, and now he is trying to tell you that he's lost interest in you. You are a minor, and as such, you could both be in serious trouble if the landlady decides to call the law. Stay away from him! He's bad news!

DEAR ABBY: My sister-in-law lives in my neighborhood. We both drive, but whenever we go anywhere together she is the one who picks me up. I suppose I should be grateful because it's her gas and her tires, but I'd prefer to pick her up or take my own car for the following reason:

When she picks me up, we are always anywhere from 15 minutes to an hour late. I am by nature a very punctual person, and I hate being late—especially when it's not my fault.

Yesterday, we arrived at a shower 40 minutes late because of her. I have had it!

How can I tell her I don't want her to pick me up anymore without making an enemy of her?

HAD IT

DEAR HAD IT: What's wrong with the truth? Next time she offers to pick you up, tell her no and tell her why.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212. Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped (20¢) envelope.

Miss Gina Hopkins Is Married To Randy Jackson At Church

Mr. and Mrs. Randy Jackson

Miss Gina Hopkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hopkins of Murray, became the bride of Randy Jackson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Jackson of Almo, in a candlelight ceremony on Friday, October 10, at seven p.m. at the Flint Baptist Church with Bro. Heyward Roberts officiating at the ceremony.

A prelude of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Hal Chrysler, organist. Mrs. Hal Rice, soloist, sang "For All We Know," "If," and "The Lord's Prayer." "The Hawaiian Wedding Song" was played throughout the ceremony and the traditional wedding marches were played for the processional and recessional.

The vows were exchanged before an altar centered with a fifteen branched arched candelabrum entwined with smilax flanked by two white columned pedestals holding urns filled with white gladioli, blue poms, baby's breath, and greenery. Nine branched candelabra entwined with smilax were used on either side of the altar. Hurricane lamps with entwined smilax were on the pews.

As a part of the ceremony the bride and groom each gave a red rose to their mothers in exchange for a candle lighted from the lamp on the pew. The couple then went to the altar and lit the large white unity candle.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father and given in marriage by her parents. Her lovely gown was fashioned in bridal white sheerganza with Chantilly type lace adorning the bodice and high mandarin neckline. Lace capped the full Bishop sleeves and graced the front of the semi-bell skirt. Her full length mantilla of silk illusion was encircled with matching Chantilly type lace.

She carried a lovely bridal bouquet, cascade style, of white roses, poms, and baby's breath with blue ribbons tied in love knots.

Miss Luanna Colson was the maid of honor and Miss Cindy Robinson, cousin of the bride, was the bridesmaid.

Their dresses were identical floor length gowns of blue floral printed dacron cotton with a sweetheart neckline and short puffed sleeves and ruffles. They each wore a large brimmed picture hat with blue ribbon streamers and carried a large white mum with matching blue ribbon.

The flower girl was Miss Christa Hancock, cousin of the bride. Her gown was like the other attendants and she carried a white wicker basket filled with blue carnation petals.

Master Scottie Rice was ring bearer and carried a white satin heart shaped pillow edged in lace and ribbon in love knots. He wore a blue tuxedo and carnation boutonniere.

Jerry Inman, cousin of the groom, served as best man, and Jerry Don Walker was groomsman. Lighting the candles were Don Bailey and Welton Lofton who also served as ushers. The groom's attire was a blue tuxedo with a white rose boutonniere. His attendants wore blue tuxedos and had white carnation boutonnieres. Mrs. Phyllis Lofton, cousin of the groom, kept the register.

The bride's mother chose to wear a light blue polyester knit gown with jacket trimmed with silver beading. The groom's mother wore a light blue bonded crepe gown with jacket. Each wore a corsage of white poms.

Mrs. Nellis Williams and Mrs. Ruth Hopkins, grandmothers of the bride, wore corsages of white carnations.

Reception Following the ceremony a reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church. The table was overlaid with a white satin cloth with bows of blue velvet ribbon at each corner. The tiered wedding cake in Roman columns was topped with a bride and groom statuette with the bottom tier iced with white daisies. Centering the table was a candelabrum holding five white tapers and a floral arrangement of blue carnations, baby's breath, and greenery. Punch was served from the crystal punch bowl.

Serving at the reception were Mrs. J. D. Robinson, aunt of the bride, Miss Trina Swift, cousin of the bride, Miss LaDon Roberts, Miss Becky Innes, and Miss Patti Miller.

Musical selections on the piano were by Mrs. Hal Chrysler.

After the reception the couple left for a wedding trip to the Great Smoky Mountains. They are now residing on Murray Route Two.

Rehearsal Dinner The bridal couple was host for the buffet dinner held at the fellowship hall of the church following the rehearsal.

About thirty persons were present for the special event.

Show Appreciation To Our Youth

In 1954, a North Carolina group of Optimists decided too much attention was being given to the negative acts of youth and too little attention to the vast majority of youth accepting fulfilling roles as responsible citizens. To bring about recognition of the positive actions and contributions of young people, Youth Appreciation Week was inaugurated.

Since its inception, this observance has grown to where it is now sponsored by Optimist clubs throughout North America. It has as its objective to publicize the fact that today's youth are not the selfish, lazy degenerates that too many adults fantasize. The vast majority of youth is well informed, concerned, willing and interested in becoming involved in efforts to improve our society.

While the vitality and spirit of youth need the wisdom and experience of adults as support in efforts toward the successful achievement of their goals, it follows each adult has a responsibility to assist youth through the transitional stage toward adulthood. It is indeed important that we give the needed recognition to deserving youth, but we must not become complacent and overlook the necessity for continued personal dedication and involvement with community improvement.

Youth Appreciation Week is a vehicle through which all adults and youth may work together for the good of all.

We join with the Murray Optimist club in saluting the youth of our community.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Wednesday, Nov. 12, the 318th day of 1975. There are 49 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1941, during World War II, Russian troops halted German invaders at the outskirts of Moscow.

On this date: In 1812, Napoleon Bonaparte's army reached the Russian city of Smolensk in its retreat from Moscow.

In 1927, Joseph Stalin became dictator of the Soviet Union as Leon Trotsky was expelled from the Communist Party.

In 1928, the British liner, Vestris, sank during a heavy gale off the coast of Virginia, and 110 persons drowned.

In 1937, the Japanese were moving occupation troops into Shanghai after the capture of the city, China's largest.

In 1948, a war crimes court in Japan sentenced former Japanese Premier Hideki Tojo and six other Japanese war leaders to death.

In 1964, Grand Duchess Charlotte of Luxembourg abdicated in favor of her son after a 45-year reign.

Ten years ago: The U.N. Security Council called on all nations to refuse recognition to Rhodesia after that country's unilateral declaration of independence from Britain.

Five years ago: Military action in Vietnam was reported at its lowest ebb in nine months, with no American fatalities in two days.

One year ago: A White House spokesman conceded that the United States seemed to be moving into a recession.

Self-Service Elevators

Tardy for a dental appointment, Alvin rushed up to the automatic elevator just as the outer doors were closing. Quickly he slipped one hand into the gap, expecting the doors to reopen. Instead, they closed upon his hand.

Alvin did manage to yank himself free, but in doing so he injured his fingers. Seeking compensation, he filed a damage suit against the owner of the building.

In a court hearing, the owner insisted that the elevator was in good order even though — for some unknown reason — it may not have worked on this particular occasion.

But the court ruled in Alvin's favor, saying he was entitled to the benefit of the doubt. The court said it was a fair guess that when such an accident occurred, there was indeed something wrong with the mechanism.

Generally speaking, the law imposes a high level of responsibility on the owner of an automatic elevator. He must take into consideration that it will be used by the young and the old, the wise and the simple, the deft and the clumsy.

Still, the owner isn't liable for "normal" mishaps. In another case, as an elderly man was entering an automatic elevator, the closing door bumped his shoulder and knocked him off balance.

But the door had functioned exactly as it was supposed to function. A court said later this was the kind of natural hazard that passengers must deal with on their own.

Nor is the owner responsible for a self-inflicted injury. One temperamental rider, trapped briefly between floors in a department store, vented his frustration by giving the elevator a swift kick in the paneling.

But when he sought damages afterward for his fractured foot, the court tossed out his claim. The court said the injury was caused "not by the stopping of the elevator but by his own kicking."

TODAY'S TOPIC: BRITAIN'S WASTED RESOURCES

LONDON, ENGLAND—A visitor to Britain may find himself oscillating between pessimism and optimism about the country's future.

One can be optimistic because of the British record of "muddling through" crises. Britain also will gain substantial new wealth from the North Sea oil fields which are bringing prosperity to Northeast Scotland. At long last, moreover, public interest in free market economics is increasing.

Alas, the outlook in the short run also provides substantial cause for pessimism. For an American, the rate of British inflation is a real shocker—currently 25 per cent a year. Some domestic pessimists speak at a 40 per cent inflation rate before long.

In any case, London is an alarmingly expensive city for the non-Arab visitor. How the ordinary Briton gets along is hard to understand. People report marked cutbacks in their standard of living. They see Europeans enjoying the good life, while British economic problems worsen. One articulate young Briton said he had the feeling his country is sinking.

Over-manning in industry is insisted upon by British unions. The result is uneconomic production and declining sales abroad. Year by year Britain's failure to utilize modern devices and techniques becomes more apparent. The failure to use computer technology to the fullest is a tragic mistake.

The country is in the grip of shopstewardism. The shop stewards are the union officials in factories. As one Briton pointed out recently, "They produce no marketable work but endlessly interrupt those who do."

The shop stewards constitute a mechanism for spreading the work and slowing down work. Their tactic is the prolonged tea break. The stewards thrive on countless petty industrial wage and job disputes which prevent increased production.

This reactionary labor mechanism operates in every British plant. It denies to management the right to manage efficiently or to deal directly with workers.

Ultimately, shop-stewardism slows down the entire country, perpetuates the job practices of 50 years ago, and prevents Britain from competing successfully against the continentals, Japan and the U. S.

Britain is a country with tremendous human resources. Its people share traditions of rationality, cooperation, self-discipline and patience. But the union movement and its political creature, the Labor Party, effectively cancel the advantages Britons enjoy by virtue of their inherited civilization. British socialism looks to yesterday, to long holidays, little work or slow work, to restrictions on the use of machines and electronics. British socialism, embedded in union practices, is a path to the future impoverishment of the British people. It is no wonder, therefore, that the pessimistic view of this island's prospects prevails over optimism.

HEARTLINE

HEARTLINE is a service for senior citizens of all ages. Its purpose is to answer questions and solve problems—fast. If you have a question or a problem not answered in these columns, write HEARTLINE, 8514 N. Main St., Dayton, Ohio 45415. Senior citizens will receive prompt replies. The most useful replies will be printed in this column.

Heartline: I am 67 years old and have been unable to work because of disability for the past 8 months. Can I qualify for disability insurance benefits under Social Security?—T.N.

Answer: No. A person has to be under the age of 65 in the month the first check is payable in order to be eligible for disability benefits. However, you can qualify for retirement benefits.

These benefits would be payable in the same tax-free amount as the disability benefit, and you have the advantage of immediate entitlement to Medicare without the 2-year waiting period required of disability beneficiaries. Also, in establishing your entitlement to Social Security retirement benefits, you won't have to submit medical and other types of evidence to prove your disability.

Heartline: I just turned 65 in July of 1975, and I got a Medicare card. I have been collecting Social Security benefits since I was 62. My Medicare card does not have my Social Security number on it, but it has my deceased husband's number with the letter "D" behind it. What does this mean?—F.R.

Answer: By having your deceased husband's number on your Medicare card with the letter D behind it, all it means is that you are drawing your Social Security as the widow of your husband.

Heartline: How do I obtain my "Guide to Medicare"?—C.T.

Answer: You can receive Heartline's "Guide to Medicare" by sending $1.50 to Heartline's "Guide to Medicare," 8514 North Main Street, Dayton, Ohio 45415. This book is unconditionally guaranteed.

Heartline: Can both the widow and surviving child of a veteran who died of a service-connected disability receive Dependency and Indemnity Compensation (DIC) and educational benefits?—N.M.

Answer: The widow is entitled to both DIC and educational benefits from the Veterans Administration. If the child elects to receive educational benefits, he cannot receive DIC.

New Credit Card Rights For You

By Virginia Knauer
Special Assistant to the President and Director
Office of Consumer Affairs
Department of Health, Education and Welfare

If you are a credit card user, there's good news for you. A new law—the Fair Credit Billing Act—is now in effect to help you resolve credit billing disputes and to eliminate certain practices that are considered unfair to consumers.

Under the law, stores and credit card companies must follow new steps when notified of a possible billing error. Also, the law prohibits "unfair" acts—like billing you for something that arrived broken and hasn't been replaced.

Here's how the law works: If you think there is something wrong with your bill, you should report the error in writing within 60 days of receiving the bill. It is best to do this as soon as possible, but not by telephone—the law applies only to written notification.

When the store or card company receives your letter, it must acknowledge your notice within 30 days and then resolve the problem within 90 days. During this period, you don't have to pay the amount in question or any finance charges on the amount. The store cannot close your account, give any adverse credit reports about you or threaten you with such retaliation. If the store doesn't follow these steps, you don't have to pay the disputed amount (up to $50)—even if the bill proves to be correct.

If you buy a product that turns out to be defective, you don't have to pay for that charge on your credit card bill—as long as you first go into the store where you bought it and try "in good faith" to resolve the problem with the merchant. The law recognizes the fact that the credit card company has considerably more clout than consumers in resolving disputes where the item is already paid for on a charge card and the merchant refuses any further responsibility. Generally, this rule applies only to purchases of $50 or more that were made within 100 miles of home.

When you pay cash instead of charging a purchase, the new law allows retailers to give you 5 per cent discount. Remember, however, that stores don't have to give the discount; but, if they do, they must post this fact within the store. (usually at the counter or cash register).

If you return an item that you charged on a bank card (not a store card), the law requires (1) the store where you made the purchase to notify the card company of the return within seven business days and (2) the credit card company to give you "credit" within three business days.

If you have a credit card from a bank where you also have an account, the law prohibits the bank from automatically collecting credit card payments from your account to pay the bill (if it is overdue). However, the law does not prevent you from instructing the bank to take money out of your account for this purpose.

The new law is being administered under regulations issued by the Federal Reserve Board. Therefore, if you have any questions about the law, you can contact the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, Washington, D.C. 20551.

AGRICULTURE

A farmer in Lakata, plowing with just one mule, kept shouting, "Come on, Mustafa...giddyap, Haydar...push, Hossein...try harder, Ahmet." A tourist was puzzled. "How many names does your animal have?" "Only one," was the reply. "You see, he doesn't know how strong he is, so I put blinders on his eyes and this way he thinks he's got a lot of help."

A Shropshire pig breeder who has won 168 awards in the past ten years disclosed recently that he had adopted the technique by singing "Onward Christian Soldiers" to his herd.

A hen and a hog were traveling together and passed a church where the subject for the Sunday service, "How Can We Help the Poor?" was posted. After a moment of reflection the hen said, "I know what we can do. We can give them a ham-and-egg breakfast." "That's easy for you to say," said the hog. "For you that's just a contribution, but for me it's total commitment."

A farmer caught a little boy up an apple tree on his farm. The lad explained, "One of your apples fell off and I was trying to stick it back on."

A Respectable Idea

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Unthinkable a few months ago, partition has emerged as a respectable idea in the search for a solution to Lebanon's bloody strife.

The idea is being put forward primarily by Christian leaders. Moslem leaders express vehement opposition.

The partition idea has grown from the despairing conclusion that the nation's leaders — openly clashing along religious lines — can never resolve the bitter divisions hardened by seven months of civil war.

Already there is some partition in fact created by the widespread flight of Moslems from Christian districts and of Christians from Moslem quarters in Beirut and the countryside. Most people feel secure only when surrounded by members of their own religion once darkness falls.

"There is a very strong current in Lebanon today in favor of partition," said Mousa Prince, a leader of Interior Minister Camille Chamoun's National Liberal Party, a Christian group.

Prince proposed to Premier Rashid Karami's cease-fire commission an "ultimate rescue measure" that in effect would partition the country into Moslem and Christian districts. There are reports that leaders of the right-wing Christian Phalange party have also prepared a partition plan for the Connecticut-size nation.

Edouard Saab, editor of the newspaper l'Orient-le Jour, suggested in a long commentary that Lebanon as a unified state may be "unfeasible, or perhaps premature." His comment is believed to reflect the thinking of many educated Phalangists.

Moslem leaders react with outrage to the idea of splitting up the country. Their goal is take control of the whole territory from the Christians, who they now outnumber 1.8 million to 1.2 million.

Treatment Of Warts

By F.J.L. Blassingame, M.D.

BLASSINGAME

Treatment of warts is not simple and not always satisfactory, even by an experienced specialist.

Warts are the result of virus infections in the skin, and physicians lack medication that cures this virus disease.

A build-up in immunity may account for the spontaneous healing of warts. If some other ineffective treatment is carried out, simultaneously, it may get credit for the "cure."

Warts are mildly contagious and occur most commonly on the hands and feet, though warts may appear at any areas in the skin. Areas that are subjected to pressure, such as the palms of the hands or soles of the feet, are often the sites of warts. Warts located at pressure points may be painful and tender.

Different forms of treatment used to destroy the wart (for example, surgical removal or cauterization with an electric needle or strong chemical) often result in a scar which may be unsightly or tender. Most experienced physicians feel that methods of treatment that produce scars should rarely be used.

Immunity against warts has been stimulated with benefit in a group of infected persons confined to an institution by giving them doses of sulfur-containing amino acids. Desiccated (dried) liver tablets have been used successfully for this purpose.

Large warts, such as those under the feet (plantar warts) often are treated by the application of formalin and salicylic acid under a plaster, which is replaced every two to three days. The physician cleans away the loose tissue about every 10 to 14 days. Such a method is often not disabling and requires approximately two months of treatment, after which the skin heals with little or no scar.

Q: Mr. T.A. wonders if laboratory tests are ever used in diagnosing mental disease.

A: Laboratory tests may occasionally be helpful in the diagnosis of a mental disturbance. For example, a test may show that the blood contains alcohol, and its presence may explain the abnormal behavior and reactions of a patient. However, no laboratory test is available to tell the difference between sanity and insanity.

Q: Mrs. B.I. asks if she should be concerned about her 15-month-old baby who regularly bangs her head against her crib, usually before going to sleep.

A: Pad the sides of the crib with a quilt or some other soft object to help absorb the "bangs." Infants often have such patterns of behavior to become established, but they disappear in a few months without any ill effects.

Steelers Are Honored By Coaching Staff

The Steelers of the Little League were treated to an honorary dinner recently by the coaching staff.

Composed of fifth and sixth graders, the Steelers ran up a perfect 6-0 record during the season and did not give up a point during the six games.

As a team, the Steelers had 1412 yards in the six games. Charlie Santagado led the team with 641 yards (total offense) and scored nine touchdowns. Todd Rutherford had 235 yards and seven touchdowns in addition to having a standout defensive year.

Tommy Workman had 324 yards and a pair of touchdowns while Chris Fazi had one touchdown and Darren Hooper had three TD's and did an outstanding job of quarterbacking the Steelers.

"Enough can't be said about the entire offensive line. And of course, the name of the game is the defense. This includes the entire team," said Coach Nicky Ryan.

Also helping coach the champion Steelers this season were Kenny Humphreys and Greg Henning.

Seaver Wins Cy Young Award For Third Time

By KEN RAPPOPORT

AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Perfectionist Tom Seaver of the New York Mets won the National League's Cy Young Award today for the third time in his career.

The Met ace, who makes a complex science out of pitching, equalled the achievement of Hall of Famer Sandy Koufax, the only other player in baseball history to win the prestigious award three times.

Koufax, of the Los Angeles Dodgers, was named the National League's top pitcher in 1963, 1965 and 1966.

Seaver, named previously in 1969 and 1973, was given the prize by the Baseball Writers Association of America in a battle with San Diego stopper Randy Jones.

Seaver was tossed 15 first-place votes, seven for second place and two for third from the 24 writers, two from each of the National League cities, for a total of 98 points.

Under a 5-3-1 point system, Jones was given 80 points, based on seven first-place ballots, 14 for second and three thirds.

Al Hrabosky, the spectacular relief ace of the St. Louis Cardinals, pulled down 33 points, based on two firsts, three seconds and 14 thirds.

Four other pitchers also received third-place votes — John Montefusco of the San Francisco Giants, Cincinnati's Don Gullett and Andy Messersmith and Don Sutton of Los Angeles.

Seaver, despite being hampered by a bad back, rebounded from an 11-11 season in 1974 to lead the National League in victories with 22 and in strikeouts with 243. It was his eighth straight year with 200 or more strikeouts, a major league record.

Seaver also was tops in three other categories — complete games with 15, shutouts with five and innings pitched with 280. The season was the right-hander's fourth 20-victory year in eight in the major leagues.

Jones, who led the league with an earned run average of 2.24, was the National's only other 20-game winner. On the final day of the season, when Seaver already had 21 victories, Jones tried for his 21st and failed. On the same day, Seaver picked up his 22nd.

Like Seaver, Jones was up among the leaders in virtually every important pitching category except strikeouts, where his total was only 103 for 285 innings.

And also like Seaver, Jones bounced back from a disastrous performance in 1974.

ABA Closes Doors On San Diego Franchise

By ALEX SACHARE

AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Basketball Association dropped the other shoe Tuesday, folding its San Diego franchise in a move towards consolidation and economic stability.

When the league closed the Baltimore Claws three weeks ago, there was strong sentiment among some officials for dropping San Diego as well. That would eliminate costly travel to the West Coast and allow the ABA to go into the season as a compact, eight-team unit.

But Frank Goldberg, owner of the San Diego Sails, was able to keep the team alive — until Tuesday, when the ABA decided to pull up stakes after a fraction more than three seasons in San Diego.

There were indications from some Sails officials that the action was taken despite objections by Goldberg, but a league official said following the day-long meetings, "My feeling is that Goldberg just sat down and made a straight business decision."

"What Commissioner Dave DeBusschere is trying to do is establish some sort of stability," the ABA official explained. "We want to show that we're operating as a business — a sound, sensible business."

Goldberg left the ABA meeting, returned immediately to San Diego and was unavailable for comment. But other Sails principles expressed shock at the dissolution of their franchise.

"I'm in a state of shock. I'm stunned. I had no idea," said Bill Musselman, who left the University of Minnesota to become coach of the Sails this season. "Goldberg is a basketball fanatic. I can't believe he would drop the franchise when he just bought it."

On Tuesday morning, Sails officials denied reports that their club was about to go under. But hours later, the league took the wind out of the Sails with a one-paragraph announcement:

"San Diego confirmed today they were ceasing business operations effective immediately," the statement read. "In accordance with league by-laws, this action automatically terminates the membership of this franchise in the league. The ABA is now considering what actions to take with respect to San Diego."

The first action, scheduled for this afternoon, is a dispersal draft to distribute the Sails players among the eight remaining ABA teams. Among the top names who'll be moving on are center Caldwell Jones, guards Bo Lamar and Kevin Joyce, veteran frontcourtmen Dave Robisch and Stu Johnson and 19-year-old Mark Oldbering, a rugged forward who came with Musselman to the Sails after one year at Minnesota.

Jones is a special case. One of the game's premier pivotmen, he has signed a long-term contract with the NBA's Philadelphia 76ers, effective in 1977. Pat Williams, the 76ers general manager, said he would study the matter to see if Jones' services might be obtained prior to 1977, but an ABA official said he was on the third year of a three-year pact and was bound to the league for this season plus one option year.

Rash Of Upsets Cause Changes In Grid Poll

By MIKE CLARK

AP Sports Writer

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The last weekend of the 1975 regular season was unlike any other in this high school football season. So it follows that the final regular season poll is unlike any issued in previous weeks.

The one major change in this final poll is in State AAA, where season-long leader Ft. Thomas Highlands was unseated after suffering its only loss 20-12 to Campbell County.

Replacing the Bluebirds in first place is Franklin-Simpson, 11-0, which garnered 13 first place votes and 73 points to easily outdistance runnerup Highlands.

Shelby County, which also absorbed its first defeat of the year in a 27-26 double overtime defeat to DeSales, held on to third place while Elizabethtown, 8-3 after a 27-18 win over tough Ft. Knox, climbed a spot to fourth and Conner, 8-3, took over fifth.

Glasgow, fourth last week but a 12-6 loser to Tompkinsville, fell out of the ratings.

Two other top-ranked teams were demoted this week. Bishop David, tied with St. Xavier for first place in Jefferson County last week, took over No. 1 all alone this time around. And unbeaten Heath edged Harrodsburg by just two votes in State A.

Meanwhile, awesome Ashland and unbeaten Middlesboro held on as top teams in State AAAA and State AA, respectively.

Bishop David, 11-0, scored its ninth shutout win of the season last Saturday in edging fired-up Manual 6-0 while St. X had to come from behind in the final five minutes to subdue Atherton 14-10. Bishop David collected four of six first place ballots and two more points than the Tigers.

Trinity, DeSales and Jeffersonson remained 3-4-5.

Heath, which trailed by three votes last week, picked up three additional first place nods this week after pasting Ballard Memorial 41-6. Although it lost some support at the ballot box, Harrodsburg, 10-1, finished strong on the field with a 44-0 blasting of Mercer County.

Frankfort and Richmond

Madison remained third and fourth, respectively, while Tompkinsville, 8-3, broke into the top five after its upset of Glasgow. The Bears replaced Ludlow, which was idle last week after completing a 9-1 season.

Ashland was one vote short in its bid to be a unanimous choice in State AAAA. That dissenting vote surely didn't come from Boyd County, which was pummeled 43-0 by the powerful Tomcats last weekend.

Lexington Bates Creek, a 14-7 winner over cross-town rival Bryan Station, moved up two spots to second as upset victims Owensboro and Paducah Tilghman slipped to third and fifth, respectively.

Bowling Green, a 64-7 winner over Russellville, vaulted a spot into fourth.

Middlesboro, idle last week, collected 12 first place votes and 70 votes to easily outdistance Mayfield, which jumped into second ahead of Somerset. Scott County and Boyle County held the fourth and fifth spots.

Another Test

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Ralph McGill, San Francisco 49er defensive back who was kicked in the head in Sunday's National Football League game here, was scheduled for another examination today to determine whether he can be released from St. Vincent's Hospital.

McGill's injury was diagnosed as a concussion. He was kicked in the head by Tom Dempsey of the Los Angeles Rams when he tried to block a field goal attempt by Dempsey in a game the 49ers won 24-23.

Murray Middle Splits Pair Of Games At East

The Murray Middle School girls' basketball teams opened their season Tuesday night by splitting a pair of contests at East Calloway.

In the seventh grade game, Murray posted an easy 50-3 win while in the eighth grade game, East took a 22-21 victory in overtime.

Murray scored the first basket in the seventh grade game...but it was in the wrong basket. That gave East a 2-0 lead and a little later, East scored on a free throw.

At the end of the first period, Murray Middle led 12-3. East did not score again in the game while Murray tacked on 38 more points to their total.

Candy Jackson, using her quickness she has developed by playing for the Murray High girls' tennis team for the past two years, ran for a game-high 24 points in pacing the Tigers. Also hitting double figures was Laurie Morgan who tossed in 10 points.

The eighth grade game was a see-saw contest all the way. Murray led 6-4 at the first period, trailed 8-7 at halftime and led 11-10 going into the final period.

But in the last quarter, East outscored the Tigers 7-6 to deadlock the game and force the overtime. In the extra period, East outscored Murray by a single point to get the win.

The victory boosts East's eighth grade girls to 2-1 for the campaign.

Penny Overbey tossed in eight points to lead East while

Humane Society Elects Officers

Compliments, suggestions, advice, reports and the election of officers were the order of the evening when the Humane Society of Calloway County, Inc. met in general session at 7:30 p. m. on Monday, November 10 in the United Campus Ministry building.

Compliments were paid the association's members by Mr. and Mrs. Louis Arvin president and superintendent of the Animal Shelter in Bowling Green. Questions asked by the membership were answered by the couple.

Richard Baker opened the meeting; reports were given including the report by Dr. Keith Heim on the improvements for cold weather of the county-city dog pound.

There will be a booth on the Court Square during the Christmas parade on December 6. Baked goods and a white elephant sale will be included.

Following a brief recess, the election of the Humane Society's new officers took place. The following were elected for a term of six months:

Dr. Keith Heim, president; Miss Karen Spratt, vice-president; Mrs. Pat Baker, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Carole Hahn, recording secretary; Mrs. Jerrie Parkin, treasurer. And to fill three vacancies on the Board of Directors, for one year terms, Mrs. JoDee Lackey and Miss Carol Barrett; and for a two year term, Richard Baker.

The meeting with approximately sixty people in attendance was adjourned following the taking of pictures of the officers.

SPEAK TO SOCIETY—Mr. and Mrs. Lois Arvin, president and superintendent of the animal shelter in Bowling Green, were the guests speakers at the meeting of the local Humane Society this week.

Wallace Officially Announces Candidacy For The Oval Office

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Gov. George C. Wallace, billing himself as "the people's choice," officially announced his bid for the Democratic presidential nomination today with scorn for his party's leadership and a promise of an active campaign in the 1976 primaries.

"It is time we offer that great middle class someone they can vote for and not against. With your help, that is what I shall do during this campaign," the wheelchair-bound Wallace said.

He said the "average middle class citizen" has been ignored by the national Democratic party and "is fed up and has been voting against the far left positions of the national party nominees and platforms."

Wallace said that in the past "the national Democratic party has allowed itself to be taken over by the exotic left." He vowed an active primary campaign to alter the party hierarchy and win the nomination.

Aides said the only primary he probably would not take part in would be the first in the nation, New Hampshire.

"I am, in my opinion and as supported by many of the polls, the leading candidate for this nomination," the partially paralyzed governor said as he formally launched his fourth race for the White House.

Wallace recalled two of his earlier campaigns and their slogans — "Stand Up For America" in 1968, and "Send Them A Message" in 1972.

"Now, in 1976," he said, "we ask for 'Trust In The People' and let's put some people leadership in the Democratic party and some people leadership in the White House in Washington.

"Let's win the presidency in 1976 by offering the people's choice as the nominee of the Democratic party."

Wallace's remarks were in a prepared statement on his candidacy that followed a Tuesday night strategy session with some 300 Wallace organizers.

The governor goes into the 1976 race with a strong campaign bank account and a veteran staff. His campaign office never closed doors after the 1972 campaign and has raised some $3 million in the past two years.

But Wallace, crippled by a would-be assassin while campaigning in 1972, is shadowed into the 1976 race by nagging doubts about his health, a segregationist past and the solid opposition of many Democratic leaders.

Wallace ran as an independent candidate for the White House in 1968. And on two other occasions he ignored the party leadership and played a spoiler's role in unsuccessful attempts at the Democratic nomination.

In 1972, Wallace scored major victories in Florida, Michigan and Maryland and drew significant votes in several other primaries before he was forced to withdraw from the race after being wounded in the shooting at Laurel, Md.

Campaign aides said Wallace again will rely on his popularity among voters and not the party leadership.

Last month, he made a two-week tour through Europe partly to silence doubts about his health. His doctors say he is fit enough to be president, but his health as well as his politics will be on the line in the upcoming campaign.

Wallace's politics have changed since he first appeared on the American scene in 1963 with the vow "segregation forever."

In his campaign last year for a record third term as Alabama's chief executive, he repeatedly said he was governor "of all the people, black and white." He was supported by some black mayors, and he appointed blacks to statehouse posts.

Celebration 100th Anniversary Of Lodge Is Planned

The Hardin-Berkley Lodge No. 567 Free and Accepted Masons will celebrate the 100th anniversary of Berkley Lodge on Thursday, November 13, with a potluck supper to be served at six p. m. at the lodge.

This will be for all families with each family to bring two covered dishes. The Lodge will furnish the meat, bread, and coffee.

Following the meal, members will retire to the Lodge room to confer the Master Mason degree on two candidates, one of which will be having a triple celebration—his birthday, wedding anniversary, and receiving the third degree in Masonry.

The Berkley Lodge was chartered October 22, 1875, at Golden Pond. When the Land Between the Lakes was developed, members were moved out of the area causing Berkley Lodge to be located elsewhere. On July 22, 1968, a new charter was granted uniting it with what was then Hardin Lodge No. 781.

I. W. Barnett, Master of the Hardin-Berkley Lodge urges all members and their families to attend the celebration on Thursday.

Cancer-Causing Chemicals May Still Be Present In Schools Identified By Different Names

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Letters will be mailed early next month to principals of Kentucky high schools listing "alternate names" of dangerous chemicals discovered in some chemistry laboratories late last summer.

Dr. J. Bradford Block, medical consultant for the state Department of Labor, said Tuesday that some high schools may not have disposed of certain cancer-causing chemicals because many of the substances "have 10 or 11 other names" than those listed in letters mailed to school officials in August.

He said the state is sending out the December letters in an effort to have all the chemicals in question removed from laboratory shelves.

The Associated Press reported two weeks ago that four high schools and 17 colleges in the state had acknowledged possession of chemicals known to cause cancer.

Since the story was published in newspapers around the state, four more high schools have reported having some of the chemicals, as have two additional colleges, Block said.

Fifteen dangerous chemicals have been found, and all can cause cancer, Block said. He said benzidine and Beta-Naphthylamine were most common in laboratories used by students.

He declined to name the schools involved but said four of the high schools are located in Northern Kentucky.

The American Conference of Governmental Industrial Hygienists lists Benzidine and Beta-Naphthylamine as "human carcinogens" and recommends "no exposure or contact by any route, respiratory, skin or oral."

Block said many high schools, not only in Kentucky but around the nation, acquired the chemicals after World War II from the federal government.

"A lot of these people (school officials) went to distribution points, loaded up with chemicals and brought them back to schools," Block said.

Seminar To Aid Businessmen Set Here On Thursday

A seminar designed to help the small businessman with the management of his business will be held at the Perkins Pancake and Steak House, Highway 641 North, Thursday, Nov. 13, from 8:30 a. m. until 10:30 a. m.

The seminar, one of four, is being co-sponsored by the College of Business and Public Affairs at Murray State University, the West Kentucky Chapter of Service Corps of Retired Executives and the Small Business Administration.

Areas to be discussed will include: The present state of the economy in relation to small business management; keeping money in motion by intelligent use of business records; and the practical day-to-day management of independently owned small businesses.

Leading the discussions will be: Dr. John Lindauer, dean of the College of Business and Public Affairs at Murray State; Dr. James F. Thompson, professor of economics at the university; Phillip Scarborough, certified public accountant with Bickman, Cunane, Libby and Thomas, Atlanta, Ga.; and Port Wheeler, vice-president of Lawler Associates, Louisville.

Wheeler also is a director of the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce and a member of the governor's Economic Development Commission.

The initial seminar will be held in Paducah Wednesday, Nov. 12. Others are scheduled for: Nov. 19 at Madisonville and Nov. 20 at Elizabethtown.

David W. Poynor, a graduate student in the Office of Regional Services at Murray State, is the campus coordinator for the seminars.

Harlem Seven Game Saturday

The Harlem Magnificent Seven Basketball game will be hosted here on Saturday, November 15, at 8:00 p. m. by the Calloway County High Speech and Debate Team.

Members of the Harlem team will meet the rugged Calloway Top Ten including University of Kentucky great Stan Key, Morehead State University Jerry Conley, Paul Rushing, Mike Kline, Bob McGaughey, Clayton Hargrove, Jimmy Nix, Larry England, Jim McCall, Darrell Gibson, and Dave Lanier.

The nationally known Harlem Seven has appeared in nearly all parts of the United States and foreign countries.

The gates will open at 6:45 p. m. and the proceeds from the game will go to the Calloway County High Speech Team for expenses throughout the school year.

Turkeys Believed Cause Of Food Poisoning At School

ALBANY, Ky. (AP) — One or more turkeys are believed the cause of food poisoning of about 200 persons at Clinton County Elementary School last week, health officials from Albany and Frankfort said Tuesday.

School officials and the state Agriculture Department could not, however, agree on when the U.S. Department of Agriculture-supplied turkeys became contaminated.

Clinton County Health Department spokesman Russell Long said state tests on samples of the turkey left from the meal Nov. 5 revealed staphylococcal organisms.

An Albany physician who treated many students and teachers for abdominal pains, vomiting and diarrhea, said the organisms found are not normally toxic at levels indicated by the tests.

Nevertheless, Dr. Larry Mason said, the victims' symptoms were "classic" examples of staphylococcal food poisoning. He said there is no doubt in his mind that food poisoning was involved and that it came from the turkeys.

Clinton County School Supt. Polston said although the frozen turkey was not contaminated he did not see how the other frozen turkeys on hand could be fed to anybody.

C.O. Neel, director of the Division of Food Distribution in the Agriculture Department, arrived at a different conclusion than Polston.

"It's clear to us that the poisoning was caused by something that happened in the processing" at the school, he said. "I'd hesitate to say what, but it would have to be something locally."

Food in the News

New York—(HK) — Newspapers are the prime medium for food merchandising, research financed by the Newsprint Information Committee confirms.

Over half the women newspaper readers in the nationwide study reported visiting two or more stores in major shopping trips for food over a four-week period. This compared with only 40 percent for women who were not regular newspaper readers. (HK)

Deaths and Funerals

Funeral Thursday Mother Of Murray Woman Dies Tuesday For H. M. Workman

Funeral services for H. M. Workman, of 810 North 16th Street, Murray, will be held Thursday at one p. m. at the chapel of the Blalock-Coleman Funeral Home with Rev. R. J. Burpoe and Dr. H. C. Chiles officiating. Music will be by the Grace Baptist Church Choir, directed by Leland Peeler, with Dwayne Jones as organist.

Serving as active pallbearers will be Raymond, Lester, Danny, and Richard Workman, A. A. Doherty, and Phillip Rogers. Honorary pallbearers will be J. L. and Palmer Culpepper, James Sykes, L. E. Fisk, Luther Jones, Hollis Hale, Novis Ezell, W. O. Vaughn, John D. Williams, and Porter Farley. Burial will be in the Old Salem Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home.

Mr. Workman, age 88, died Monday at 11:50 p. m. at the Murray-Calloway County Hospital. His wife, Mrs. Alice Scott Workman, died January 23, 1971. He was a retired farmer and had served as magistrate of the Murray District for sixteen years.

Survivors are one daughter, Mrs. Leon (Mary Brown) Burken, Taylor, Mich.; three sons, Fred and L. D. Workman of Murray and Elmo Workman of St. Clair Shores, Mich.; nine grandchildren; eleven great grandchildren.

Mrs. Ambie Craig Dies Today; Rites Planned Thursday

Mrs. Ambie Lee Craig died this morning at 12:15 at the Henry County Nursing Home, Paris, Tenn. She was 81 years of age and the wife of Roy H. Craig who died May 16, 1957.

The deceased was a resident of 1004 Pearl Street, Paris, Tenn., and was a member of the Puryear Church of Christ. Born November 30, 1893, in Henry County, Tenn., she was the daughter of the late Albert P. Stubblefield and Dora Buchanan Stubblefield.

Survivors are one son, Henton Craig, and one granddaughter, Miss Martha Craig, both of Paris, Tenn., and one sister, Mrs. Blanch Lassiter of New Concord.

The funeral will be held Thursday at two p. m. at LeDon Chapel, Ridgeway Morticians, Paris, Tenn., with Bro. Ewing Stubblefield officiating. Burial will be in the Mt. Pleasant Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home.

Officials Fear Bodies Of Crewmen Won't Be Recovered

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. (AP) — Coast Guard officials heading the search for the sunken freighter Edmund Fitzgerald say they fear they may never recover the bodies of the ship's 29 crewmen.

"Lake Superior very seldom coughs up her victims unless they're wearing life jackets," said Capt. Charles A. Millard, local Coast Guard commander. "As of this time, we have no reason to believe the men of Krit Stubblefield, 17 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Joe Stubblefield, and Sandra Stark, 17 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Stark, were crowned as First District Farm Bureau King and Queen at the event held at the University School auditorium Monday evening. Both are seniors at Calloway County High School and are active in FFA and 4-H. They will represent the First District at the State Farm Bureau convention December 11 at Louisville. Stubblefield won over eight other contestants and Miss Stark over nine other contestants.

Danny Kingins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Joe Kingins, took second place honors in the Division 1 Talent contest of the First District Farm Bureau with his humorous storytelling entry. First place winner was the Joy Singers of Hickman County.

Hal Faulkner, sophomore at Murray State University from Hickman County, took first place in the Division II Talent contest of the First District Farm Bureau. Jimmy Burken, son of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Burken of Murray, also participated in the talent contest.

Tricks Of Lobbying Trade Given In Clinic

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Veteran political lobbyists are advising newcomers on tricks of the trade during a two-day "clinic" on lobbying which winds up here today.

The one thing they all stress is to be honest about where you stand and what you want. "Shoot straight," advised E.W. Kessler, a veteran lobbyist with the Kentucky Farm Bureau. "Don't let the word get around...that you can't be trusted."

Maurice Bement, a seasoned lobbyist for the Kentucky School Board Association, advocated honesty "at all times with all members, on all occasions, in all matters."

About 100 prospective lobbyists are attending the two-day clinic sponsored by the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce. Chamber officials say it is apparently the first ever held in the state.

Participants appeared to be about equally divided between those who have had lobbying experience and novices at the art.

Elizabeth Noyes and Steve Taylor were probably the youngest prospective lobbyists. They plan to represent the University of Kentucky student government at the next legislative session, and both said they were learning a lot from the session.

They plan to lobby for, among other things, expansion of the Landlord-Tenant Law and to oppose any increase in tuition at UK.

Lowell Reese, director of research for the chamber, gave a brief summary of the top issues that will face the 1976 General Assembly, saying it would probably "pass more laws than ever in the history of Kentucky."

Franco Suffers Setback Today

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Gen. Francisco Franco suffered a setback today and was reported bleeding internally, raising the possibility that the sutures from his stomach surgery had come apart. Doctors said his already grave condition had worsened.

A medical bulletin, postponed twice during the morning as specialists fought to stem the bleeding, said Franco, 82, was suffering "digestive hemorrhaging that is at this moment controlled."

"The gravity of the prognosis has increased," the doctors said.

Franco's latest setback came five days after he underwent his second major operation to stop abdominal hemorrhaging. Two-thirds of his stomach was removed.

Medical sources said a third operation was impossible for the Spanish leader, already down to less than 80 pounds. The bulletin said the generalissimo was experiencing fluctuations in his heartbeat for the third consecutive day, indicating that his heart might be giving out under the strain of almost a month's sickness. It also reported increased lung congestion, another indication of a failing heart.

The donor of the Jackson print collection, Harry L. Jackson, Cleveland, Ohio, gives Murray State President Constantine Curris a personally conducted tour of the exhibit prior to the acceptance dinner Wednesday evening. The collection consists of a variety of types of prints, mostly by American artists and including etchings, engravings, lithographs, wood cuts, intaglios, watercolors, aquatints, silkscreens and drawings.

Elmo Reed, Benton and who teaches guitar in the Department of Music, provided the music while Bob Head, chairman of the Department of Art, read some of Carl Sandburg's poetry as part of the entertainment provided for the reception Wednesday evening in the Eagle Gallery.

Mrs. Jane Prince, left, wife of the dean of the College of Creative Expression, and Mrs. Jo Curris, wife of the president of the university, visit with the donor, Mr. Jackson, before the dinner Wednesday night.

Collection Accepted At Reception

With a reception and a private dinner, the first ever served in the Clara M. Eagle Gallery in the Fine Arts Center, Murray State University, has formally accepted a collection of 92 prints valued at more than $16,000 for its permanent art collection.

Honored at the reception and dinner was Harry L. Jackson, the donor and a former oil company executive from Cleveland, Ohio. A native of Bowling Green, Jackson also is a former Tiffany Foundation Scholar and art director of Vogue Magazine. His training as an art critic spans both the United States and abroad.

According to Richard Jackson, gallery director at Murray State and a nephew of the donor, a total of 25 of the prints were commissioned by the Cleveland Print Club. Among the artists represented in the collection are Jim Dine, Peter Takal, Charles Burchfield, Paulo Boni, Reginal Marsh, Rockwell Kent, Grant Wood, John Sloan, Lucan Van Leyden, Johnny Friedlaender and Andy Warhol.

Murray State President and Mrs. Constantine Curris were hosts for the dinner which was attended by 40 special guests including members of the Jackson family from throughout Kentucky.

Richard Jackson, director of galleries at Murray State and a nephew of the donor, views the 92 prints in the collection with Mrs. Joe Durbin from Bowling Green at the reception.

Mr. Jackson discusses his collection with, from right, Mrs. Jane Prince, Dr. Alfred Wolfson, retired chairman of the Department of Biological Sciences, Mrs. Wolfson and Ms. Dorothy Rowlett of Jacksonville, Fla., at the Tuesday night reception.

Among those viewing the Jackson print collection at the reception Tuesday evening was Miss Clara M. Eagle, retired chairman of the Department of Art and for whom the gallery facilities in the Price Doyle Fine Arts Center were named.

Your Individual Horoscope

Frances Drake

FOR THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 1975

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

ARIES

(Mar. 21 to Apr. 20) Admonitions for this day: Double-check on plans. Listen keenly during discussions: Be alert to flaws in reasoning — whether your own or another's.

TAURUS

(Apr. 21 to May 21) If you have any doubt about projects, reconsider them, but subdue unreasonable fears. Give a thought to earlier successful moves, procedures.

GEMINI

(May 22 to June 21) Good stellar influences stimulate efforts and attainment through higher-type thinking. Check possibilities for making sound investments.

CANCER

(June 22 to July 23) Exercise your keen mental faculties. Some indicated opportunities may be missed if you are too hasty, or worse, indifferent.

LEO

(July 24 to Aug. 23) You may run into some unexpected situations. Be resolute in your own interest, but bend if the occasion warrants and principles are not jeopardized.

VIRGO

(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23) Mostly favorable influences. Do not let pressures or tension hamper steady, well-tempered action. Especially favored: written, personal matters.

LIBRA

(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) Stellar influences now stimulate inspirational ideas, intuition, inventiveness. Capitalize on your talents and maneuver situations adroitly.

SCORPIO

(Oct. 24 to Nov. 23) You may run into some opposition. But you need not let it disturb your equilibrium or your sense of humor. You usually enjoy outwitting opposing forces.

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21) A lively outlook! If you have felt some restraint lately, forget it. You may step more freely now — but not recklessly, of course.

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) A day for flexibility. Don't adhere rigidly to a course when latest developments definitely call for a change of policy.

AQUARIUS

(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) An analytical look at your position may indicate some new avenues to explore. Keep an easy yet alert eye on future moves. Taper off in late hours to relax.

PISCES

(Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Your judgment somewhat "off" now — especially when it comes to financial matters. Avoid any urge to speculate. Your guesses are likely to be wrong.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with a boundless energy, vitality and enthusiasm for life and all that it holds. You love adventure, travel, interesting people and, since your inner resources are almost limitless, you should choose a career where you can make the best use of them. Public life would suit you to a "T" and, if you should elect a fling in the business world, you will undoubtedly become a high-level executive since your gifts of leadership and organization are outstanding. However, you are extremely creative and may choose one of the arts as a profession, in which case you would do best at either literature, music or the theater. Birthdate of: Robert Louis Stevenson, renowned author; Edwin Booth, tragedian.

Job Opportunities In Vocational Teaching

FRANKFORT, Ky.—State Recruiting and Exams Director Ernest P. Fowler said Friday that many Kentuckians may not realize the job opportunities available in teaching vocational school classes. "While we continue to receive an unprecedented number of job applicants for many different kinds of positions," he said, "there are numerous vocational instructor jobs for which there are few applicants."

Fowler said that state personnel requirements for most first level instructor positions are a high school diploma (or GED) and two years' related working or teaching experience, with a starting salary of $504 per month (many of these positions are part-time and are paid at an hourly rate). He added that second level positions usually require a college degree relating to the work or equal years of working experience in the job area and start at $643 per month for full-time work.

The fields for which there is an applicant shortage were reported as: business and office teaching jobs, such as typing or shorthand, keypunch, accounting and computer programming or operations.

Other shortages are in trades and industrial teaching areas such as electronics, electricity, radio and TV series, office machine repair, tool and die, welding, sheet metal, iron-working, machine shop A-C refrigeration-heating, highway technology, drafting, auto body, auto and diesel and aircraft mechanics, carpentry, cabinet making, interior finishing, masonry, plumbing, upholstery, commercial sewing, commercial and graphic art, meat cutting, commercial foods, mine safety and fire fighting.

Also named were home economics, distributive education, agriculture, mathematics and health occupations, such as dental assistant, nursing and medical secretary.

The merit system law requires that applicants for these positions be placed on the merit register (list of names) once it is determined they are qualified and that any hiring be done from those listed on the register. Fowler said those interested in applying should write or send an application to the Department of Personnel, Room 280, New Capitol Annex, Frankfort, Ky. 40601.

Vocational schools and classes are located throughout the state.

Johnny Mac Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cy Miller of Hazel, graduated from Southern Illinois University with the degree of Associate in Art. He is a member of Sigma Phi Sigma fraternity and was presented the 1976 M. Keith Humble Award for most outstanding student of mortuary science. He has passed the Conference of Funeral Service Examining Boards and the Illinois State Board of Examining for Embalmers and Funeral Directors. He served one year of apprenticeship with Miller Funeral Home, Hazel, and now with the Hobbs-Johnson Funeral Home, Benton, Ill. His wife is the former Carolyn Wertz of Benton, Ill.

Pay Increase

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — An across-the-board pay increase of 9 per cent for all employees of the system was approved by the Fayette County Board of Education Monday.

A school budget of $32.1 million, including the pay package, will be voted on Wednesday. It includes $2.3 million to cover the cost of pay raises for teachers.

James Broadus, a member of the board, said the proposed budget could be financed at a 75.5-cent rate since a reassessment of property taxes did not substantially change last year's 85.3 cents per hundred dollars of valuation.

KET Explains Misdemeanors On 'Commonwealth Call-In'

When most people run afoul of the law, they commit misdemeanors or small crimes. "Commonwealth Call-In: Misdemeanors" explains what constitutes a misdemeanor and the legal procedures which may result from being convicted of a misdemeanor on Kentucky Educational Television (KET), Monday, November 17, at 7:30 p.m. (CST).

Host Jack Petrey and guest panelists, including Paris City Police Judge Carolyn Connell; Public Defender John Adams, a Lexington attorney; and Metro policeman Norman Allen of Lexington, explain various types of misdemeanors. Skits also are incorporated within the program to illustrate specific points.

Questions related to bail, bonding, and generally what to expect if you or someone you know is arrested for a misdemeanor are also examined.

Viewers are invited to participate during the "Commonwealth Call-In: Misdemeanors" by calling (806) 233-0666 and asking questions of the panelists Monday, November 17.

Resource Recovery Grants Available

FRANKFORT, Ky.—The federal government has $350,000 in $50,000 parcels to give to local governments for resource recovery projects. But, there isn't much time to get them.

The deadline for applying for the grants is Dec. 22. However, the applications must first be reviewed by the state Office for Local Government.

According to Sam Johnson, director of the division of solid waste in the Kentucky Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection, the grant funds from the U. S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) can be used to fund up to 75 per cent of the cost of a project. In-kind services can be used as matching funds.

Last year—the first year the grants were awarded—Lexington received one of nine grants given nationwide by EPA. The Lexington project involved beginning a resource system based on using about 500 tons of solid waste a day to generate heat and chill water for some Lexington industries.

The grant to Lexington was also used to publish and sell bonds to be used to finance the project.

According to Johnson, a $50,000 grant isn't enough to finance construction projects. It's basically for designing or planning a project or for use in printing and selling bonds.

"It's impossible for us to say what EPA will consider," said Johnson. "However, EPA will probably try to get a wide variety of project types and sizes."

Johnson said a large metropolitan area might be interested in using the grants for recycling bulk goods such as major appliances. Smaller communities might consider energy recovery of bulk goods or household waste. Area development districts might use the grants to study the feasibility of an areawide recycling system.

According to the pre-application instructions, preference will be given to those applications that request the least federal funds and provide the greatest local matching funds. The instructions say the outputs of the projects proposed must be implementation-oriented and appear to have a high potential for success.

To be complete, pre-applications must consist of a proposed budget, a proposed work plan, a resume of the proposed project manager and supplemental information about public support and the economics of the project.

The instructions emphasize that no applications will be considered after Dec. 22.

For answers to questions or pre-application instruction kits, contact Richard Hopper or Denise Hawkins, Office of Solid Waste Management Programs, U. S. Environmental Protection Agency, Region IV, 1421 Peachtree St., N. E., Atlanta, Ga., 30309, or phone 202-755-9150.

Mudslide Victims To Get Homes

FRANKFORT, Ky.—Gov. Julian Carroll, pleased that the construction of new homes is finally in sight within the next year for the mudslide victims of Cumberland's Sanctified Hill, said that the project will be a major demonstration in housing improvement in Eastern Kentucky.

"I am very pleased that the Sanctified Hill project is finally underway," Gov. Carroll said. "We have, over many weeks, been in touch several times with the agencies involved in the project and had urged them to appoint members to serve on a task force to get this project moving."

A $2.9 million program for the Harlan County community offers past and present Sanctified Hill dwellers an even swap—their homes on the slope for new homes in a planned neighborhood named Pride Terrace.

Most of the money will come from the Appalachian Regional Commission and the Community Services Administration. Kentucky state government will pay $60,000 and the city of Cumberland will provide $50,000.

Last week, an agreement was reached between Cumberland and the Greater Cumberland Corp. on management and budget planning and on Thursday, the plans were okayed by Housing and Urban Development (HUD) officials in Louisville.

HUD notified Cumberland Mayor F. N. Hagen Thursday that all the money for housing and relocation work could begin at once.

Raymond Motion

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — A motion will be filed in U.S. District Court here today to have Jill Raymond moved from the Madison County Jail at Richmond to the Federal Correctional Institution near Lexington, Miss Raymond's attorney said.

Miss Raymond, confined for eight months in three county jails on a contempt of court citation, has complained that the jails provide unnecessary punishment because they are not equipped to confine women for extended periods.

If a judge agrees to the transfer, FCI Warden I.G. Grossman said Monday, he will ask federal marshals to seek permission from federal prison officials to move Miss Raymond to his facility.

Indictment Dismissed

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Franklin Circuit Judge Squire N. Williams dismissed a murder indictment Monday against former Frankfort restaurant operator Jack Pagoto.

A jury voted 10 to 2 last April 13 to acquit Pagoto of the murder charge brought against him for the murder of his wife. Pagoto had been indicted in October, 1974.

Williams noted in his order that there wasn't sufficient evidence to convict Pagoto, who was also acquitted of arson July 24 in connection with a fire that destroyed his restaurant last year.

Fort Henry Entered In National Register

The site of Fort Henry, located in Land Between The Lakes in Stewart County, Tennessee has been chosen for entry in the National Register of Historic Places. The former site, now part of TVA's outdoor recreation and environmental education center in western Kentucky and Tennessee, served as a Confederate defense point on the Tennessee River, known today as Kentucky Lake. The Fort Henry complex originally consisted of an earthwork fortification. The inner fort contained 14 guns, 9 of which bore on the Tennessee River it was built to defend. At the present time, due to the impoundment of Kentucky Lake, the site of inner Fort Henry is under water. The portion of the fort which survives in recognizable form is a series of rifle pits which originally constituted part of the outer breastworks.

Fort Henry was named for Gustavus A. Henry who represented the State of Tennessee in the Confederate Senate at Richmond. Work on the construction of the fort began in 1861. From the beginning of January 1862, the fort was subject to occasional shelling by Union gunboats; but on February 6 Flag Officer Andrew H. Foote and his gunboats began their attack in earnest and the fort surrendered, giving the Union access to the Tennessee River at the heart of the Confederacy. The Union forces then went on to capture Fort Donelson at Dover, Tennessee.

Today TVA has constructed a series of historical trails which trace the footsteps of General Grant and his troops as they marched from the site of Fort Henry to Fort Donelson. The trails, which are 26 miles in length, are designed in a series of loops so that hikers can walk for an hour or backpack on the trail overnight. In addition, a trail is currently under construction which will interpret the Battle of Fort Henry by audio voices of the past.

Wallace Has Big Money, Strong Organization, And Many Problems

WASHINGTON (AP) — Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, entering what probably will be his last presidential campaign, has a big political bankroll, a strong organization and a set of problems that surely would keep a less combative politician out of the race.

It is the fourth national campaign for Wallace, 56. It's his first from a wheelchair. He says there will not be another unless he wins the White House in 1976 and seeks re-election in 1980. That is not likely.

No political leader outside the Wallace camp suggests that he has a chance of winning the presidency. But he is as usual a force for the Democrats to reckon with, more formidable than ever given the party's big field of candidates. On a crowded presidential primary ballot, a minority often is enough to win, as Wallace showed the Democrats four years ago. His name has led the divided field in early polls.

Wallace's campaign manager, Charles S. Snider, says the governor is better organized, better financed and better prepared than before.

"We're probably in as good a position as the governor's ever been in," Snider said in a telephone interview as Wallace prepared for Wednesday's news conference in Montgomery, Ala., where he is to formally announce his candidacy. The formal announcement is almost redundant. The campaign has been going nonstop since the last one ended.

Paralyzed from the waist down, frequently in pain, facing constant questions about his health, Wallace is likely to encounter more searching scrutiny than ever before on his proposals for dealing with national problems and his formula for foreign policy.

In past national campaigns, his platform consisted largely of opposition to the things frustrating voters. This time, pressure is on candidates to talk about solutions and not just hit at problems.

Wallace could have problems matching the record he made in winning a half-dozen primaries four years ago. Any time his performance falls short of his 1972 showing, it will be read as evidence he's slipping.

There are reports of dwindling blue-collar support for Wallace in parts of the South, once the base of his power. There are two Southern rivals waiting to take him on, each hoping to win national spurs by beating George Wallace in his own neighborhood.

Former North Carolina Gov. Terry Sanford tried and was trounced in his home state in 1972. He now seeks a rematch. Former Georgia Gov. Jimmy Carter is showing signs of headway in his first presidential race.

Health, of course, is the big question for the Wallace can-

Supreme Court Decision Would Have Bearing On 1976 Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court is being asked to apply the principle of freedom of speech to the old adage that "money talks."

The applicability of the First Amendment to political spending is part of a tangle of issues in a complex constitutional case being argued today bearing directly on the 1976 presidential campaign.

The court set aside an unusual four hours for argument on the case, in which a wide range of political figures and organizations are challenging so-called post-Watergate campaign revisions.

The court is expected to attempt to reach a decision before the end of the year, in view of the impact of the issue on the 1976 campaign.

If the challenged legislation is upheld, some politicians believe it will make it more difficult for any candidate to take a commanding lead in advance of the nominating conventions.

ERIC SUCCEEDS
Eric XIV succeeded Gustavus I as King of Sweden on Sept. 29, 1560.

The challengers of the law range from the conservative Mississippi GOP to Stewart R. Mott, a wealthy contributor to liberal causes. All say that the act favors major parties at the expense of dissidents.

In a move which lawyers say appears to be without precedent, the Justice Department filed two separate briefs taking different views.

In one, the department defends the act except for one portion which it says gives away some of the president's law enforcement powers to Congress. The other brief analyzes the pros and cons of the act in a way which is generally neutral but contains some critical passages.

That brief says, for instance, that the act's limitations on individual expenditures "directly affect the right of the people to criticize their elected officials."

In addition, says the department, "an independent citizen would not be able to afford even a quarter of a page of a major daily newspaper to speak his piece on a candidate for public office."

The act limits presidential candidates to spending $10 million in primaries and $20 million in general election campaigns, with an additional 20 per cent for fund raising in each case.

National committees of the parties may spend an additional 2 cents per voter and each major party may spend $2 million on its national convention. The act also subsidizes presidential campaigns and nominating conventions from funds checked off by taxpayers on their income tax returns for the purpose.

There are also limits for Senate and House candidates, for contributions and for individual expenditures, which are held to $1,000. All contributions over $100 must be reported.

The act raises an unusual number of constitutional questions, including the powers of the executive and of Congress, the guarantee of freedom of speech, the right of privacy, the right to due process of law and the rights reserved to the people under the Ninth Amendment.

The U.S. Court of Appeals in Washington upheld the bulk of the act in August, but said the enforcement-style powers given the commission could not be tested until they have been exercised.

The Supreme Court could uphold the act, strike it down, do some of both or rule that the act must be given an opportunity to work before politicians have legal standing to challenge it.

TVA Explains Tick Situation

Recent reports that TVA plans to burn large acreages at Land Between The Lakes to control ticks or for some other purpose are untrue. Land Between The Lakes is the Tennessee Valley Authority's 170,000-acre public area between Kentucky Lake and Lake Barkley.

Dr. Frank Holland, manager of the recreation area, explained, "TVA has no plans whatsoever to burn large acreages of land in the area. Allegations that employees of the agency have been instructed to prepare fire breaks around TVA buildings to protect them are false, as are reports that burning would take place south of Highway 68, and that preparations for burning are taking place north of the highway. It is also untrue that hunting will be limited to accommodate the fires or that burn areas have already been prepared on both sides of Highway 453."

The manager said that the probable source of the false rumors is the recently prepared plan to study the problem of how to control ticks on Land Between The Lakes. "TVA has become increasingly concerned about the expanding tick populations in the area. The problem exists in that young larval ticks can and do infest visitors, causing severe, long-lasting skin irritation. There is also the possibility of disease spread by adult ticks," Dr. Holland said.

TVA has recently developed and funded a proposal to study different methods to best control the pests, including preventing development of large tick populations in the southern portion of the area. The proposal includes testing of different chemical sprayers and sprays; habitat alterations which may disrupt the life cycle of the ticks for several subsequent years; a study of the mammal hosts that ticks infest during their life span; and a study of the most effective times and places at which controls might be applied.

For several years limited chemical spraying for tick control has been done along the most popular nature trails and certain campground areas. The new study hopefully will disclose more effective and environmentally acceptable means of controlling ticks. Habitat manipulation, which consists of possible burning, plowing, disking, and/or frequent mowing, is one of the methods which may be tested. Burning, if it occurs, would conform strictly to existing laws and would be limited to small open or reverting areas; not concentrated within the hardwood forested areas and not involving substantial amounts of land. Results from the study will be compared and conclusions as to how best to control ticks will be made at the end of the study period, probably in 1979 or 1980.

The manager explained there have been some small acreages burned in past years for management of certain wildlife species. "This is a widely accepted technique," Holland continued, "and used extensively in some parts of the country. Although use at Land Between The Lakes is limited due to excessive moisture conditions during the periods of the year when the controlled burning should be done, we have upgraded habitat conditions of songbirds, quail, and wild turkey by use of controlled fire."

"We invite anyone who has questions about the operation or management of the resources of Land Between The Lakes to contact us directly. We will be happy to explain and clarify any question or problem that might arise," Dr. Holland said.

Driver Education Conference Set

FRANKFORT, Ky.—The annual Kentucky Driver Education Conference is scheduled to convene in Lexington at the Hilton Inn Hotel Nov. 18-20.

The conference opens with a banquet at 7:45 p.m., Tuesday, Dr. Walter Gray, director of driver and traffic safety education at Indiana State University in Terra Haute, is the guest speaker.

Other speakers at the program are Dr. Marvin Mills, director of traffic safety at Marshall University in Huntington, W. Va., and Dr. Francis C. Kenel, director of traffic engineering and safety for the American Automobile Association in Falls Church, Va.

The Outstanding Teacher Award will be presented Wednesday afternoon. It will be followed by one-hour workshops on such topics as multi-car driving ranges, licenses and enforcement, classroom instruction and a discussion with other state consultants from Ohio, Tennessee, Illinois and Indiana.

George Logan, consultant for driver education in the Kentucky Department of Education, said, "There are about 25,000 students enrolled in high school driver education classes this semester. We expect that between 48,000 and 50,000 students will have taken driver education in the high schools by the end of this school year." He added that students who have successfully completed a driver education course get a 10-25 per cent discount on their car insurance.

A $3 registration fee is required. The conference is sponsored by the division of program development in the Department of Education's Bureau of Instruction.

Steps Given For Cutting Electric Heating Bills

Consumers' concern about saving on heating bills has produced an increasing number of misleading advertising claims about the insulation value of some building materials, a TVA energy specialist says.

"Insulation has become essential with today's higher heating costs for electricity and home heating fuels, but to cut heat losses effectively you have to have real insulation — not ordinary structural or siding materials," J. W. Ward of TVA's Electrical Demonstration Branch explains.

He said siding materials such as wood, brick, asbestos cement shingles, aluminum or vinyl all have various desirable qualities for use in construction, but their insulation value is almost insignificant.

"Some other materials such as fiberboard sheathing, or metal siding with a thin foam backing, can add some useful insulating value, but generally this is not nearly enough to do an adequate job by itself without having other insulation as well," Ward said.

"It is hard to make general statements about some materials because of differences in individual products," he said. "The best way for the consumer to be sure of getting material that meets recommended standards is to check the 'R' number on insulation products that indicates their heat resistance. The higher the 'R' number, the greater the insulation value."

TVA recommends R-11 insulation (equal to a 3½-inch fiberglass blanket between wall studs) in outside walls and underneath floors where the space or room beneath is unheated. Between attic and ceiling it recommends at least R-19, which is equal to 6 inches of blanket or 6 to 9 inches of pour-fill insulation. Some newer materials can provide the same insulation value with less thickness.

If a consumer is unsure about adequate insulation, he can check with his local electric system, Ward said.

Metalized kites can be dangerous

Metalized toy kites, said to be non-conductive, nevertheless have knocked out power lines in at least three states and are considered hazardous, says Vincent L. Tofani, president of the National Safety Council.

Sold commercially under various names, the kites are made of metallic foil and mylar material in two sizes: 25 and 45-foot lengths.

Labor Pushing For Bill Giving Union More Power In Disputes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Organized labor is making a strong effort to win approval of a controversial bill that would give individual unions the power to close down entire construction sites in disputes with subcontractors.

The measure, passed by the House in July, has touched off a Senate filibuster, but backers of the measure hope to invoke cloture on a vote today to get the bill to the Senate floor for consideration.

The bill, which would in effect overrule a 1951 Supreme Court decision, would allow building trades involved in disputes to picket an entire construction site and not just the subcontractor involved in the dispute. The high court ruled 25 years ago that such action constituted an illegal secondary boycott.

Labor leaders backing the bill with both lobbying and thousands of dollars in campaign contributions for congressmen argue that a general contractor and subcontractors are engaged in a single coordinated enterprise and should be treated as one entity in disputes.

AFL-CIO unions have made thousands of dollars in political donations to supporters of the measure. An Associated Press tally of 1975 political donations by 18 AFL-CIO political committees, including all those affiliated with the federation's Construction Trades Department, showed labor's early pre-election donations going mainly to supporters of the controversial measure.

The AP tally showed that the 18 committees gave a total of $93,495 to 78 House members who supported the bill last summer. In the Senate, $15,000 went to Sen. Harrison Williams, D-N.J., who is head of the Labor Committee and a sponsor of the bill.

In the House, $9,000 was given by the unions to congressmen who did not support the measure.

The Senate filibuster to keep the bill from floor consideration is being mounted by Sen. Paul Laxalt, R-Nev. Senate passage of the measure seems assured if its supporters can mount the 60 votes needed to shut off the filibuster. The vote is expected to be close.

Sen. Jesse Helms, R-N.C., an opponent of the measure, said Monday the bill would give construction unions the rights that other unions do not have in letting them picket subcontractors not directly involved in disputes.

Sen. Lowell P. Weicker, R-Conn., supported the bill and criticized the National Right to Work Committee for making "gutter charges" that building trades unions are "scandal ridden" and "mobster tainted."

Racial Violence

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Absenteeism was reported between 500 and 600 students at DuFret High School in Jefferson County Monday where inter-racial violence disrupted classes Friday.

Principal James Smith said there was a bomb threat at the school Monday, but the building was not evacuated and police did not find a bomb.

There was a 2½ hour meeting Monday between Smith and parents who took their children home during Friday's trouble. Smith said a decision was made to hold the imminent suspension of some students in abeyance.
